ford Rathborne, for many years pastor of St. Paul's Church in this city. Mr. Holston is a son of the late Colonel Edwin L. Holston, of Richmond, and the wedding will be one of the most interesting events of the spring season.

On Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Miss Emily Rathborne, who has been the house guest of Miss Emily Rathborne for the past several days, left Saturday at noon for her home, "Kilnlock," in Wakefield county, Va. Miss Rathborne spent several weeks last summer at Miss Rathborne's guest, and will probably visit her again for the horse show, which takes place the last of August, and attend the big ball which follows that event.

Mrs. Frank E. Held gave an enjoyable and interesting talk last Tuesday afternoon at the Art Club rooms, corner of Belvidere and Grace Streets, her subject being "Panama—Its People and Places," and from her long residence in that land of mystery her remarks were valuable and pertinent.
The table was presided over by Miss Ragland, and refreshments were served by members of the club.
